THE PEOPLE'S INSTITUTION

A plan toward the equal distribution of CAPITAL.

Why pay rents when you can as easily apply such payments toward buying a home for yourself?

This Company has for its object the loaning of money for a long time at a low rate of interest, for the purpose of building or buying a home, improving the same, or the lifting of mortgages.

Our plan is an easy one. We issue a simple contract that anyone can readily understand. It is not technical. Has no catches, it means exactly what it says; no more, no less.

We loan full value on town or city property.

You have ten years to repay your loan.

You are never required to pay unearned interest.

We encourage economy. We encourage home-building. We are able to put people in their own homes who formerly did not own a foot of land.

Our monthly payments will not equal usual rentals.

Do not waste money on landlords. Use it in improving and beautifying a home for yourself.

Home is the foundation of civilization. It is the nucleus around which we build our hopes for success and happiness.

Happy is the man whose home is in the house where he abides.

We put you on the road to success and independence. Investigation is both solicited and desired.

YOURS FOR 17 CENTS A DAY

We announced this new sales plan recently, just to feel the pulse of the people. Simply a small cash payment—then 17 cents a day. That is the plan in a nutshell.

The result has been such a deluge of applications for machines that we are simply astounded. The demand comes from people of all classes, all ages, all occupations. The majority of inquiries has come from people of known financial standing who were attracted by the novelty of the proposition. An impressive demonstration of the immense popularity of the Oliver Typewriter.

A startling confirmation of our belief that the Era of Universal Typewriting is at hand.

The Oliver Typewriter is a money maker right from the word "go!" So easy to run that beginners soon get in the "expert" class. Earn as you learn. Let the machine pay the 17 cents a day—and all above that is yours.

Wherever you are, there's work to be done and money to be made by using the Oliver. The business world is calling for Oliver operators. There are not enough to supply the demand. Their salaries are considerably above those of many classes of workers.

"AN OLIVER TYPEWRITER IN EVERY HOME"

That is our battle cry today. We have made the Oliver supreme in usefulness and absolutely indispensable in business. Now comes the conquest of the home. The simplicity and strength of the Oliver fit it for family use. It is becoming an important factor in the home training of young people. An educator as well as a money maker. McKinney, in the office of the Librarian of Congress, Washington, D. C.

F. A. MCKINNEY, Publisher.

460 Main Street, Delta 1338 Lawrence Street, Denver
18 West 27th St., New York City.

Introductory

The publisher presents this the first directory of the Durango District. It contains the names of the people of Durango arranged alphabetically with residence, street and number, a list of the ranchers who get their mail at the Durango postoffice, the Rural Route delivered from Durango, the names of the people who live in La Plata County with their correct postoffice address, the names of the people in Cortez, Mancos and Dolores and the balance of Montezuma County with their occupation and postoffice address, the people in Farmington and Aztec and the people in San Juan County, New Mexico, with their postoffice address. As this is the first directory ever published of this district, it is very possible that errors may be found both of omission and commission, but the compiler wishes to assure the subscribers and advertisers that no pains, no trouble, no expense has been too great to prevent him from using every means to make the work as near perfect as possible.

The publisher wishes to thank those who aided him in the compilation of the book both financially and otherwise. He wishes to call particular attention to those whose names appear in BLACK TYPE in the book and those whose advertisements appear herein. They are the people who want Durango and the Durango District to have a directory and they are willing to do their share towards paying for it. The publisher has put their names in black type so that you will know them. They are alive and up-to-date, and they are mighty good people to do business with. This directory is a good thing for every business man in this district for it gives him the names and addresses of all the people who deal with him. It is a good thing for the district for it advertises the resources of the country to the people on the outside who are looking for information about this and other sections of Colorado. Thus the patrons of the book are helping to advertise the country. There is no directory published anywhere which is printed on better paper, better bound or is a better specimen of the printers' art. No citizen of this country will have cause to be ashamed of this directory when he sees it in the directory libraries of the cities of the country along side of the directories of other and perhaps larger cities. All of this has been paid for by the business men who advertised and subscribed for the book, and they deserve all the credit for this directory. It is to be hoped that this book will make such a good impression on the other business men that when in the course of time the second edition of this work will be published that THEY too will want an advertisement in the book. Nothing makes so good an impression on the outsider as a directory which is full of advertisements and which shows that ALL of the business men gave it their patronage. The publisher of this directory publishes directories of more counties in the state of Colorado than any other three publishers together, which certainly proves that he knows his business. The compiler wishes to again apologize for any errors which may be found in this volume, but he is aware from experience that the criticism, if any, will come from those who did not patronize the publication.

In due course of time the publisher of this directory will issue Volume Two of the Durango District Directory.

Very Respectfully,

FRED A. MCKINNEY, Publisher.

DURANGO

Durango, the metropolis of southwestern Colorado, has a population of six thousand. It is on the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Southern Railroads. There are four lines of railroad running out of the city, the road to Alamosa, the Farmington branch, the Silverton branch and the Rio Grande Southern to Telluride and Montrose. In the territory tributary to Durango are to be found some of the richest gold mines in the world, inexhaustible coal banks and some of the richest fruit and agricultural land in the State of Colorado, and of course that means in the world. The altitude (about 6000 feet) is not too high for fruit nor the other crops and it makes the climate of Durango the finest in the world. The winters in Durango are not severe; there is plenty of snow but it is never very cold.

Durango has excellent fire protection, first class public improvements, broad streets, good sidewalks, parks, beautiful homes and many substantial business blocks. It has four banks, two daily newspapers, four weeklies, fine large stores and everything which any other up-to-date western city has or needs. The Durango plant American & Refining Company employs about three hundred men all the time. This payroll is no inconsiderable item in Durango's prosperity. The city has one mercantile institution which does both a wholesale and retail business which has regularly employed over fifty people. It is the biggest in the state outside of Denver and Pueblo.

There is an electric street railway connecting the city and Animas City, an electric light plant which is up to the minute, and a water system which will be equal to the demands made upon it when Durango has many times 6,000 population. It furnishes the city the finest, purest drinking water in the world.

The compiler of this directory has found a population of 6,000 people in Durango. These are not all in the corporate limits of the city but include Animas City, the Mexican Flat and the people living on the west side of the Animas River. These are not in limits and therefore the U. S. Census does not credit them to Durango. However, for all practical purposes, they are in the city and should be counted as a part of the city's population. A careful census of the city was made by the directory solicitors in taking the names for the book. The census of each house in the city will be found in the "Householders' List," which follows the alphabetical list of Durango.

The Herald Printing Company

PUBLISHERS of THE DURANGO EVENING HERALD (established 1881), and THE SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD. ¶ THE EVENING HERALD is printed every afternoon in the week (except Sunday). It contains the latest local and telegraphic news and pertinent editorials on leading topics of the day. Being essentially a home paper and having a large circulation among the better classes it is unequalled as an advertising medium. ¶ THE SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD is issued every Monday and Thursday; contains a complete resume of happenings of the week and is generally read by the farmers. ¶ Rates for advertising quoted on request. ¶ We are also well equipped for the execution of high-class commercial printing, and have on hand at all times a large and varied stock of the best bonds, flats, envelopes, cards, etc. ¶ Pleased to show you. IGNACIO Station on the Denver & Rio Grande R R twenty-six miles east of Durango in the Pine River Valley. The postoffice and townsite are one mile north of the station. It is surrounded by fine farming land. The Southern Ute Agency is located one and three quarters mile north of the station. It was the seat of government of the old Ute Reservation located here under Col Page in 1875. It comprised forty townships along the southern boundary of Colorado for the Confederate band of Utes under Chief Ouray. In 1895 about 70,000 acres were allotted to the Indians and the balance thrown open to settlement. The Confederate Band of Utes have abandoned the reservation except the Moaches and Capotas. There are here now about three hundred and sixty Indians under Chief Buckskin Charley.

CORTEZ

Cortez, the county seat of Montezuma County, is centrally located in the Montezuma Valley on a mesa which commands an extensive view of the most magnificent and productive valley in the state of Colorado. It is fourteen miles from Dolores and twenty miles from Mancos, the nearest shipping points. All the traffic for the Bluff Oil Fields goes through Cortez and this is one reason that this is the busiest town of its size in the state. It has good hotel accommodations, good stores, two banks, two newspapers, lodges and fraternal organizations, high school and grade school, and a live bunch of hustling business men who believe that the Montezuma Valley is the garden spot of the world. There are good indications that there is oil under this whole section and prospect work is now being done. Fruit growing will probably, in a few years, be the principal industry here, and even now Montezuma Valley apples are known the country over.

The Montezuma Valley is about thirty-five miles long and from five to fifteen miles in width, in the shape of a horseshoe, embracing an approximate area of three hundred and fifty square miles. It is encircled by the LaPlata Mountains on the east, the San Miguel range on the north, covered with perpetual snow, while to the west and south the approach is open with the old Ute Peak standing in the gap as silent watchman. At the south end of the Valley is the Aztec Divide. Lying south of this are the Southern Ute and Navajo Indian Reservations, comprising about three hundred thousand acres of the finest fruit and farm lands in the west.

Cortez has a population of some seven hundred people comfortably housed in modern homes and substantial business blocks, many of them built of native stone, of which there is an abundance. Cortez draws the entire trade of the Montezuma Valley, reaching a population of four thousand people. The present business conditions of Cortez and the Montezuma Valley are highly satisfactory, and yet the present actualities appear singularly insignificant when a sane consideration is given to the immediate future. In the three years, Cortez has developed from a settlement of two hundred people to a town of several hundreds, and the valley population has grown from fifteen hundred to four thousand people. The advancement of the near past is trifling in comparison with that of the near future. The agricultural resources of the valley at this time have been but merely scratched. With the newly developed and efficient water system completed at an expense of one million dollars, the Montezuma Valley not only promises, but insures the most productive agricultural section in the state of Colorado.

The town is reached by stage from Dolores, fare one dollar. It meets all trains.

DOLORES

Dolores, the gateway to the famous Montezuma Valley, is sixty miles from Durango on the Rio Grande Southern R. R. It has a population of four hundred, altitude 5700 feet. This is the nearest shipping point for the Montezuma Valley. Nearly all the supplies for the San Juan oil fields come through here. The town has two banks, three hotels, some good stores, three churches, and will soon have a waterworks system. It has a live Commercial Club, and some live real estate men. This section is quite a sheep and cattle country, besides the fruit growing and general farming. A rural route is delivered from here. The names of the patrons will be found immediately after the list of people who get their mail at Dolores.

MANCOS

This is the largest town in Montezuma County, population about eight hundred, forty miles from Durango on the Rio Grande Southern R. R. It is surrounded by a good agricultural country. A rural route is delivered from here, the names of the patrons of which will be found following the Mancos alphabetical list. The town is progressive and up-to-date, having electric lights, good schools, churches, and being the best lodge town for its size in the state, having more lodges than any other town of its size. It has two banks, a good weekly newspaper, the biggest store in the county, and no saloons. It is the nearest point to the Mesa Verde National Park and the cliff dwellings.

San Juan County

NEW MEXICO

DIRECTORY 1911-12

AZTEC

County seat of San Juan County, a pretty little town of over six hundred population on the Animas River thirty-five miles south of Durango on the Denver & Rio Grande R. R. It is the supply point for Bloomfield, Largo and Blanco on the upper San Juan River, and for Pendleton and LaPlata on the LaPlata River. It has built up quite rapidly in the past few years with new business blocks and residences of substantial material and will grow still more rapidly as the many new farms and orchards which surround it on three sides are brought into their highest state of cultivation. Aztec has a fine school system, well supported churches, progressive merchants and energetic and enterprising citizens. It maintains two good weekly newspapers and the fraternal and secret societies are well represented, and it has practically all the conveniences of a well established community.

Aztec is the county seat

FARMINGTON

The largest town in the county, population eleven hundred, forty-nine miles south of Durango at the end of the Farmington branch of the Denver & Rio Grande R. R. The site is well chosen for a large city, being at the confluence of the three rivers of the county. It is the trade center of a large territory devoted to fruit raising and agriculture, and is the main supply point for the Navajo Indian Reservation. It is now practically assured that Farmington will have railroad connection with the south and west in the near future. The public school system is modern and up-to-date, seven church denominations are represented and as many more secret and fraternal organizations. The people are wide-awake and progressive: all lines of business are well represented and the town is enjoying a rapid and substantial growth. Boosting effort is concentrated in a live Board of Trade, which is working unceasingly for the betterment of the town and the district. The town has electric light plant, water works, six miles of cement sidewalks, a first class hotel, which is run by a first class hotel man—may his shadow never grow less. Besides the cement sidewalks and the hotel man Farmington has two live newspapers which are considerably above the average to be found in a town of the size, two banks, auto garages, good up-to-date stores and practically everything which can be found in any live town of its size.

Who's Your Printer?

Printing has individuality—just like people. Some of it looks lonesome—gum—sour—pessimistic—sad. Other printing has that happy, cheerful, prosperous, go-ahead appearance which is associated with SUCCESS.

Producing the latter is a specialty of the AUTOMATIC PRINTING CO. It is done by a combination of new, high-grade equipment, good taste, skill and "an infinite capacity for taking pains."

Any old print-shop can do your work if you don't care for looks. If you don't care for anything but a cheap job, any old print-shop can do the trick. But you've a right to care "how it looks" as well as a right to expect a square deal on the price. People who have bought printing for years say they get a more satisfactory combination of LOW PRICE and GOOD LOOKS from the AUTOMATIC PRINTING CO. than from any printery hereabouts.

That's partly because this is a "job-shop"—not merely a side "issue" to piece out the income of a newspaper.

New, up-to-the-minute material is constantly added. There's none of that "getting along with the old stuff." New material saves printing from the "commonplace." Knowing how to use material saves it from that "amateurish" look which gets on the nerves of the really particular person.

The more "fussy"—hard-to-please—"particular"—"cranky"—you are—(or have been told you are)—the better you'll appreciate a printing service such as the AUTOMATIC PRINTING CO. can render and DOES render.

None of that annoying waiting, phoning, cussing and unending excuse-making. You get your job ON TIME.

None of those awful, exasperating "makeshifts" made necessary by old equipment. You get the job made the way YOU want it.

And, after all, your COMPLETE satisfaction is the condition of your acceptance of the work. The transaction is NOT closed until YOU are satisfied—and say so.

Candidly, isn't that the kind of a print shop that ought to be doing your work? If the AUTOMATIC PRINTING CO. hasn't had a "try" at your printing, what have you to lose by making a trial of it NOW?
